

DIARY!!!

Dear diary...

Today was my first day at Lark Creek Elementary school. The class was full of children. They needed to bring one extra desk for me to sit. At first, I felt anxious because all my new classmates were dressed in their Sunday best.

Then, during the recess I went with the boys, who were having a race. The boys wouldn't let me run, but Jesse supported me. I won the race.

At least my first day wasn't so bad.

Goodnight for now...

Leslie
