

My favourite film

Michalis Papastathopoulos

Southpaw

- Last month I saw a thrilling movie. The film is about a boxer. He was the best. He had a family, his wife and his daughter. He earned a lot of money and he was rich but one day his wife died and the welfare took his daughter after an incident of violent behavior. Then, he became poor without a job and he lived in a small house. But one day he decided that he had to find a job. So, he got a job as a cleaner in the sports centre. He found a coach who helped him to pull himself together again. Day after day he was getting better so one day he got his daughter back. He would go every day to the gym and finally got back his title as a champion.

The end
