

THE ENVIRONMENT PROJECT

ARTEMIS SPARANGI

HOW CAN WE PROTECT THE ENVIRONMENT?

We can protect the environment by

- Reducing
- Reusing
- Recycling
- Not throwing rubbish
- Not wasting

We can also protect the environment by helping in lots of kinds of organisations for the environment protection. One of these is the GREENPEACE

GREENPEACE

- Greenpeace is an international non-profit organization. With its action, it highlights the major environmental problems and promotes solutions for a green and peaceful future.

HOW GREENPEACE PROTECTS THE ENVIRONMENT?

- They research the causes of environmental problems.
- They confront environmental abuse.
- They put pressure on those who can affect environmental issues.
- They call those who have political and economic power to bring changes and take action.
- They promote solutions that ensure a better future for present and future generations.
- They encourage people to show responsibility for the planet.

THE CAMPAIGNS OF GREENPEACE

For more than thirty years, Greenpeace gives a struggle to prevent and tackle the biggest environmental problems of our planet. At international level, they try to stop nuclear testing and the use of weapons of mass destruction, they rescue ancient forests, they try for ocean protection. They prohibit genetically modified organisms in food and hazardous toxic substances. They prevent climate change and promote renewable energy.
