West End theatres

- No visit to London would be complete without spending some time soaking up the unique atmosphere in the West End, one of London's most vibrant areas. The West End was originally a collection of palaces, expensive town houses, fashionable shops and places of entertainment. When people refer to London's West End today, they can be talking about different things.
- Perhaps the most famous thing about London's West End is its theatre scene. Alongside Broadway in New York, West End theatre represents the highest quality theatre in the world. There are around 40 theatres in London's "Theatreland." Theatre performances in the West End tend to be musicals, classic plays and comedies.

Shopping

- The West End also contains some of London's finest shopping streets. Check out Oxford Street, Regent Street and Bond Street for big-name flagship stores such as Topshop, Ralph Lauren, Selfridges, Harleys, The Apple Store, and Fenwick. There are also some lovely smaller shopping streets perfect for exploring in the West End. Don't miss Carnaby Street, St Christopher's Place, St Martin's Courtyard and Seven Dials.
