

MY DREAM DESTINATION

My dream destination is NEW YORK CITY because it has many museums, great operas, theatres, amazing skyscrapers and bright avenues.

I have an aunt who lives there and I can stay at her home whenever I visit NEW YORK CITY!

A vibrant, stylized illustration of a sunset over a town. The sky transitions from a deep purple at the top to a bright orange near the horizon. A large, glowing yellow sun is positioned on the horizon, with its light reflecting on the water below. The town features several houses with dark roofs and chimneys. In the foreground, a large, detailed chimney is visible on the left. The text "THE END" is written in large, bold, white letters with a black outline, centered in the upper half of the image. A small bird is flying in the sky to the right of the sun. The overall style is reminiscent of classic comic book art.

THE END
