

My dream destination

My dream destination is Africa. I've heard a lot of things about this continent. I've read that it is a very poor continent, but a part of it, is also very rich because of its mineral wealth (diamonds).

First of all, I would like to see all the wild animals, such as elephants, tigers, giraffes and lions. I've seen them on television documentaries and they look amazing!

Secondly, I would have the opportunity to meet Muces, the little boy we have adopted through the Action Aid program . My family adopted Muces when I was born, so we are the same age. I have only seen some photos of him.

Thirdly, if it was possible, I would like to take part in a special program of UNICEF. I have read on the internet that we can help to build a school there.

Finally, I'm very curious to learn about the culture of African people. Although they are poor, they seem happy. My visit there will make me appreciate all the goods we have ,as my mother says.
