

News papers

● Full-scale alert as violent riots spread across capital ● Disorder breaks out in Birmingham city centre ● Mayor and home secretary return, PM still on holiday

Violence David and Caroline Bates
Full-scale alert as violent riots spread across capital...
Disorder breaks out in Birmingham city centre...
Mayor and home secretary return, PM still on holiday...

Obama's call for urgency fails to prop up plunging shares

The easy way to buy a new sofa.
Call FREE 0800 100 5000
www.dfs.co.uk

Daily Mail
MONDAY, APRIL 8, 2013
www.dailymail.co.uk

FREE Buddleia and Clematis collection
WORTH £62.93
DETAILS: POSTAGE PAYABLE

After crucifixes are allowed at work, human rights quango tells firms: Give vegans and pagans special treatment too
WHAT AN INSULT TO CHRISTIANS!

By Jason Groves
Backpack girl 'killed by tourist possessed by the Devil'

Thousands in rush to avoid new benefit test

10p DAILY EXPRESS
FREE CHANCE TO WIN £100K WITH THIS NEWSPAPER
FREE UMBRELLA FOR EVERY READER at WHSmith

GERMANS DECLARE WAR ON OUR £
Robert Wagner five years before her death for wife Natalie Wood's death after 30 years

'Thank you all'

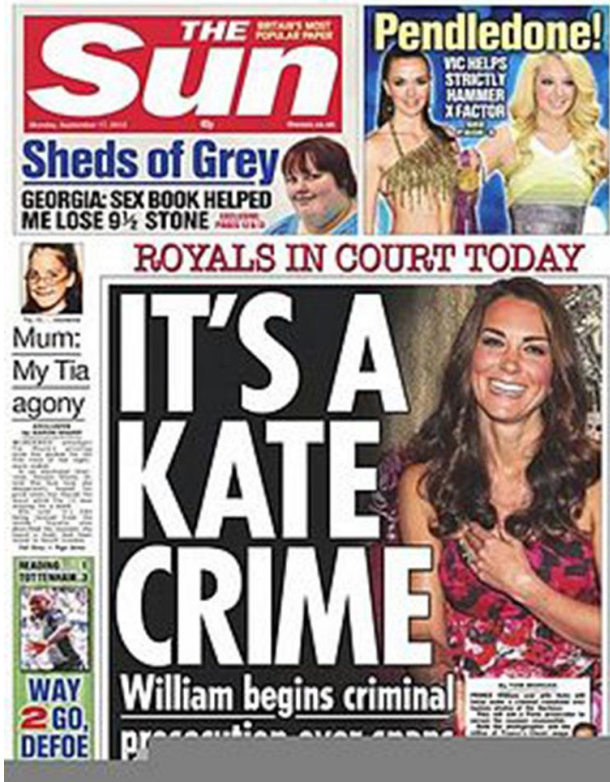

Valentine Low
She was, she said, humbled. She was touched. And, in an indication that even the Queen was taken back by the scale of the celebrations, she could hardly stop smiling.
Last night, as tumultuous scenes in The Mall brought four days of Diamond Jubilee festivities to a close, the Queen took the rare step of broadcasting a message of thanks to the nation.
In a television and radio address that was also sent out for the Commonwealth, she said: "The events that I have attended to mark my Diamond Jubilee have been a humbling experience. It has touched me deeply to see so many thousands of families, neighbours and friends celebrating together in such a

Queen voices her gratitude to say how she is humbled by Jubilee celebrations

IN THE NEWS
The family and the real Royal Family
Obama pays tribute to a very special relationship
The Queen has outlasted 11 US presidents but none of them can have delivered more generous tributes than Barack Obama.
Ill Prince disappointed but feeling 'a lot better'
The Duke of Edinburgh is recovering well from his infection and has been glued to the coverage of the Diamond Jubilee.
St Paul's service was how Queen gave thanks
The contrast with the Royal concert was stark, but, for the Queen, St Paul's service was the most important of the Jubilee.

Popular and sensational newspapers

THE TIMES

Daily Mail

Popular press

MEDIA

As the years go by, it is obvious that the power of media has grown as an increasing number of people have access to it every day. Every house has a television so that people can be informed about current news and about what is happening abroad.

Press

The last few years press has shown a continuous progress as more and more people buy newspapers in order to be informed about the latest news. As a result, more newspapers and magazines are printed every day. People prefer reading their newspapers while they relax or while they drink their coffee.

Some people prefer reading their newspapers in the old traditional way while others prefer not to spend money and to read them online. The online form is an easy way but in my opinion it is not beneficial. I believe that when people have a paper in front of them, they can feel at ease.

What is more, if an increasing number of people read the newspapers online, the production of newspapers in the traditional way is limited. As a result, those who are professionally occupied with the printed press may lose their jobs.

W
O
R
L
D

Lydia Andrianakou