

The Big Issue is the world's most widely circulated street newspaper. It is sold by unemployed people for 2.50 pounds. This way they can make ends meet decently by earning their living and not begging. Since the launch of the Big Issue in 1991, thousands of people in need could take control of their lives and have access to housing, health and much more.

By Vassilis Polychronis