

This school year I decided to attend the Forensics class. We have lessons once a week, on Monday afternoon. I was really stressed and anxious at first, because I did not know what I was supposed to do. As time passed, I believe that I was getting better and better and now I have self-confidence. At the Forensics class we did Debate, Group Discussion and Impromptu speech, which are all very enjoyable. The event that I prefer doing is Impromptu because it's interesting. At Impromptu, we are given 3 or more words or sentences and then we are given 1 minute maximum to think, take notes and then give a short speech about our feelings and our thoughts on this word/sentence.

In spring, I participated in the ICYD at "Campion School". It was the first time I participated in a Forensics competition and I was very stressed out. In the end, I realized that I shouldn't have been. There, I met a lot of children and together we did debate. It doesn't matter that we didn't win or had the opportunity to go to the pre-finals. It was a really good experience for me and I hope, in the future, to participate in a similar competition and do my best.

I recommend that everybody should attend the Forensics class and have a great time as I did!
