

This year's THIMUN was an unforgettable experience!

As it was my first THIMUN and my second MUN conference, I was really nervous due to the fact that it would be the largest conference I had ever attended. Walking into my committee, which was the largest of the conference this year, I didn't know what to expect...

However, soon enough I fitted in just fine. I met a lot of new people, from all continents and I experienced what it means to debate about important topics that concern the global community. I also met different mindsets and I experienced the complexities of some opinions and points of view. I learned what it really means to be different and having a voice on several issues that I probably would not have the opportunity to speak about, under different circumstances. I felt very lucky that I got the chance to be part of something that important and I felt very overwhelmed and full of mixed emotions when it ended. This experience was truly an eye-opener for me and it definitely augmented my open-mindedness and the way I perceive different things. I really loved the whole process from the very beginning and I look forward to attending an MUN as such, as soon as I can.
